DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Southward et al, US Patent 5,627,896. Southward et al disclose an active noise control system comprising an input sensor for measuring a physical variable, a processor for generating a plurality of command signals over time based upon the input sensor signal and a control weighting W whereby the control weighting W is varied and limited (see figure 5). Claims 1 and 20 are met.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 3, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Southward et al in view of Rossetti, US Patent 6,002,778 . Southward does not disclose a plurality of force generators are activated based upon a plurality of command signals. Rossetti 6,002,778 discloses an active structural control system and method comprising a plurality of sensors 42 for sensing noise and force generators 12 for controlling the noise heard inside an aircraft cabin based on command signals related to the sensed noise. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to incorporate a plurality of sensors and force generators, as taught by Rossetti, for the purpose of providing the noise control system of Southward in an environment that has multiple sources of noise disturbance, which was well known at the time of invention. Claims 2 and 16 are met. As to claim 3, the modified Southward apparatus would have a plurality of command signals for the plurality of force generators, with a plurality of control weighting components associated with the command signals. The teaching of varying the control weights over time would be established for each command signal.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-11 and 17-19 and 21-25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 12-15 are allowed.
